Texas A&M University

Lecturers in Biochemistry and Genetics

We invite applications for:

• Up to 2 appointments as Lecturer (not tenure accruing) teaching undergraduate genetics lecture and/or laboratory courses.

• Up to 2 appointments as Lecturer (not tenure accruing) teaching undergraduate biochemistry lecture and/or laboratory courses.

All of these are non-tenure positions and are subject to budgetary availability, student enrollment needs, programmatic needs, and turnover rates. Qualified applicants must have a Ph.D. degree in a relevant discipline. Applications should be sent in electronic format (preferred) to search@biobioubunto.tamu.edu and include a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, and the names and contact information for at least three references. References will be contacted only upon approval by the applicant. Review of applications will begin June 10, 2013, and continue until the position is filled.

Gregory D. Reinhart
Professor and Head, Texas A&M University
Department of Biochemistry & Biophysics
2128 TAMU
College Station, TX 77843-2128
Fax: 979-845-9274

The Texas A&M University System is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. The University is committed to building a culturally diverse and pluralistic faculty and staff and strongly encourages applications from women, minorities, individuals with disabilities, and covered veterans.